

REQUIRED FOR BIO210, Evolutionary biology

1) EVOLUTIONARY BIOLOGY 4th edition Freeman, S and JC Herron (2007)

“A rose by any other name would smell as sweet”—William Shakespeare

“A rose is a rose is a rose”—Gertrude Stein

“Nothing in roses makes sense except in the light of evolution”—Theodosius Dobzhansky (more or less)

2) Several EcoBeaker simulations: details later. See <http://www.simbio.com>.

3) In addition, there may be research articles and videos used during the course, which will be considered “required” (pensum).
