1   2   3   (4)   5

3. Which excursion was your favourite? Reply: The one to Agora

Why?

Reply: That was the very first one, and had "all" of the historical stuff in one place. Mostly it was because it was the first temple from classical times that I saw up close. i.g. The first impressions

4. Did you find the lectures/seminars inspiring (1=No, not at all; 5=Yes, very)

5. Did you find that you learnt a lot from the lectures/seminars? (1=No, not at all; 5=Yes, very)

6. Which lecture/seminar was your favourite? Reply: The one about Eros? and/or friendship

Why?

Reply: Every seminar has been inspiring and relevant for what I'm writing on, but this is a theme, especially friendship, that I have for long as I can remember been interested in. Being in Athens and discussing friendship and Aristotle made it extra special. I want to write more, but should stop.

Reply: It would be useful to have few previous meetings before arriving in Athens in order to familiarize better with the topics and to have more material that can help orienting the paper's topic choice. A better detailed schedule of supervisions and writing requirements during the stay in Athens would also be beneficial.

7. Is there any particular change you would suggest for the course, and if so, what is this?

Reply: Regarding the trip — more communication leading up would be useful; much info distributed was piece-meal, packets etc. would be good to recieve ahead of time. It seemed like some students lacked travel knowledge/etiquette, not sure how to remedy this for the future, though. Lectures — would be nice to incorporate some class discussions, a longer lecture day for trade of another free day would work perhaps. It was sometimes frustrating living at the finnish guesthouse but needing to adhere to ~~some~~ strictness for time.

7. Is there any particular change you would suggest for the course, and if so, what is this?

Reply: I think that the course in general is mindblowing. However, perhaps the mix of master, bachelor and exchange students makes that the level and contents of the course becomes a bit ambiguous: some things were easy, others quite difficult. Nevertheless, I think it is something that can hardly have a remedy. The excursions were nice, but perhaps I would have enjoyed the city a bit more if I had the objective of the course a bit clearer since the beginning as I spent many hours in the library.
