Forelesers kommentar:

The evaluation report includes comments from only one student. Even though his/her feedback is quite positive about the course it is difficult to draw any useful conclusion with $N = 1$. We had 25 students registered to this course initially. Around 10 students regularly attended classes, and 15 students sat for the final exam. I thought the course would be tough for bachelor students, but everyone passed the exam in the end. It was great to see most of them managed to get good grades. One major issue we faced during the semester was that the lecture room allocation to the course. We had to constantly change around four different lecture rooms located both in VilVita and HiB. I had to announce which lecture room we should meet all the time on MITtUiB, and nobody liked this arrangement. There were no other big issues except for that.
